How The ATRE Show Has Grown:

The ATRE show has grown from solely focusing on real estate issues, to a program that now offers timely business, community, cultural and non-profit commentary (always with a thread of real estate running through each broadcast). Rey and his collaborators use the ATRE show as a place to create a "story" about a variety of issues, offering themes around special calendar dates, and events that enhance the show's content for its listeners.

The radio show has been honored to feature not only some of the best in the real estate trade, but also a variety of non-real estate personalities. To illustrate the diverse content the ATRE show has offered over the years, a handful of these special radio show guests include: former CIA operative Valerie Plame; movie producer and Kevin Costner business partner, Jim Wilson ("Dances with Wolves"); actors starring in the movie "50 To 1" (filmed in New Mexico); former Director of the CBS News Poll, Kathy Frankovic; Indianapolis 500 race car legends Johnny Rutherford, Parnelli Jones, and Al Unser, Sr; and former National Association of Governors Chairman, Vermont Governor Jim Douglas. In addition, since he was elected in 2018, Santa Fe Mayor Alan Webber has been a regular guest on the ATRE program, offering timely information on business, community and real estate issues important to the residents of the city.

The ATRE website and blog have also become valuable destinations for information on the radio show's broadcasts, as well as timely real estate, cultural and community information. The corporate office of Sotheby's International Realty® is fully aware of the ATRE program, with the former president of the company coincidentally being at the Santa Fe brokerage office the day in 2011, that the Santa Fe Chamber of Commerce Business Excellence Award nomination for ATRE was announced.
